

Wednesday 15th March 2017

The ducklings are growing very fast; it looks as though they have grown as the day has gone on! It will not be long before they are too big for the classroom and will be saying goodbye to us for their new home. Here are some pictures from today which they spent mostly paddling (because they are too big to swim now!) to keep themselves cool.

Their feathers are becoming waterproof now so means they can stay longer in the water.

Happy ducks!!