

Our school calculation policy sets out a clear progression throughout the school for the teaching and learning of the four number operations, which are in line with the new curriculum. It shows the expectations for the end of each school year which we are keen to share with you during the informal workshops.

We hope that you would find the workshop beneficial, so that you, as parents, can see how your child is learning to calculate whilst at school. This will then help you to support your child in a similar way at home.
