

Duck Diary Day 1

The children in Foundation Stage were puzzled as to what was arriving in the class today. They saw the equipment being set up and thought it would be a hamster, guinea pig or a mouse.

Then the children spotted the six eggs and suggested it may be chicks, dinosaurs or crocodiles. This is not what was found inside and the new addition to the class was so excited to see us two had hatched before they arrived. We welcomed two new ducklings. These ducklings were very tired and just wanted to rest.

Throughout the day we had three more hatch.

The children were able to say what we needed to do in order for them to be healthy and grow. We are looking forward for caring for our ducklings.

Come back tomorrow and see if the final egg hatches.
