

Duck Diary Day 8

Most of the ducklings are a week old today and have spent the day relaxing in their cage and saying hello to the children that came to visit them.

They enjoyed a swim in the afternoon and were trying to jump out of the tub to explore some more.

When the teachers left the school the ducklings were cheeping loudly filling up on food and water.

