Do you have a unique and creative story idea?

Why not try writing a 500 word story for the BBC Radio 2 competition?

If you are aged 5 -13, you can submit a 500 or less word story for the competition.
There are many prizes to be won!

If you would like to submit your own unique story, follow these instructions below:

Go to www.bbc.co.uk/programmes/p00rfvk1 - this is a direct link to the website.

Click on 'submit a story'. This will take you to a new webpage with all the information about submitting your unique story. You will need to make an account. Do this by clicking on the words 'SUBMITTER ACCOUNT HERE' under the 'How to enter' heading.

A parent or guardian will need to create an account for you. You will receive an activation email once you have set up your account. You will only be able to log in once you have clicked on the link in the activation email.

Once you have logged into your account, to submit a story, all you need to do is click 'Add stories' and complete the form. Once you click 'agree' to the terms and conditions, you will then be able to add a story draft.

You will have until the 27th February to submit a story for the competition.
